

2023 Vice President Candidates

	The Vice President role requires critical thinking and collaboration with Directors and members. How would you describe your communication?	The Vice President role requires conflict management and resolution skills to ensure each members perspective is heard, valued, and considered when finding resolution. How do you rank yourself on effectively managing conflict? 1 – No Experience 2- Little Experience 3 – Some Experience 4- Expert	Do you have experience overseeing committees? If yes, please describe your experience.
David Benson	My communication is direct and to the point, and honest.	4 - Expert	I have been involved with IWV for 8 years and have been a part of the IWV family since 2011. I am also a Team lead at my work and have to deal with costumers and delegate work as it come in for repair and testing.
Lisa Burchett	I've been told I am direct, clear, and can articulate my intended message with effectiveness. People have said they appreciate my ability to provide context to a situation or conversation, helping them better understand. I am skilled at adjusting my communication style and messaging to my audience.	4 - Expert	I have been a part of the Board of Directors for this organization for the last two years. I've been responsible for organizing, scheduling, and facilitating a number of small group activities and efforts. Over the last ten years working on base, I have also organized and led steering committees and focus groups.
Racquel Ellis	My communication is detailed and informative. Always communicate information ASAP to the appropriate audience.	4 - Expert	I do not, however I am confident I can do this.
Chelsea Kesse	Others would describe my communication skills as excellent. My day-to-day job as a General Manager of a top performing hotel requires communication with many different vendors on a daily basis. My team and I also have daily meetings to keep everyone in communication and on the same page.	4 - Expert	I serve on the RACVB board as an Executive board member and I am also the VP of Shetland for IWVYB. With all of my experience I think I would serve as a great candidate.
Brandon Ihle	I feel like a majority of people would describe my communication as assertive and direct. I'm willing to listen to all sides of a conversation to utilize all information in forming a fair judgement and best possible outcome for everyone involved.	4 - Expert	I've been apart of the IWVYB board as an Equipment manager, and VP of Shetland baseball, where I worked with all levels of baseball to provide and or purchased any and all equipment needed to run the league, as well as working with multiple division VPs to complete a schedule that minimized conflicts with coaches who coached multiple teams. I've held just about every position at our Moral and Warfare committees for multiple departments on base, where a collection of employees come together to put together events usually to cater an end of the year celebration.